I'M HERE!

After so many months of praying and working and planning—and then praying and working and planning some more, God has brought to pass what I've had in my heart: Nancy IS In Africa! I'm so thankful to God and all of you who's prayers and sacrificial giving has made this dream become reality, not just for me but for those I'm here to serve with Jesus' love. While I'm still settling in, here are some glimpses and brief comments into the first month here in Uganda. I believe you can see all the praying and working and planning has been worth it! I'm excited about what the future will bring. And I'm so glad you're on this journey of faith with me! -
